

About this Policy

Port of Brisbane Pty Ltd (PBPL) manages Australia's fastest growing container port and Queensland's largest multi cargo port. The very nature of what we do means that our working environments expose our employees and contractors to risk. We're committed to driving a safety first culture, to ensure that the health and safety, including mental wellbeing of our people and members of the Port community always comes first.

We continually review and make improvements to our Health and Safety Management System to ensure a healthy and safe work environment for all employees, contractors/suppliers, key stakeholders, people who have the potential to be affected by our operations and visitors to our sites:

Our key commitments under the policy are:

- We take personal responsibility for our own health and safety and that of others.
- We encourage efficient reporting and management of workplace hazards, near misses and workplace injuries through the "Variation" system.
- Health and Safety, including Mental Wellbeing is fundamental to a successful workplace.
- We embed risk management principles in all planning and decision-making activities and areas of influence.
- We enable a culture where our people feel empowered to speak out immediately against unsafe behaviours or conditions and stop working until safe to do so if they have a health or safety concern.
- We develop, implement and communicate Health and Safety targets that have the right balance of lead (positive) and lag indicators.
- We actively identify risks and opportunities and apply the hierarchy of control when managing hazards including injury or illness to any person, damage to assets or the environment.
- We actively engage with employees, contractors, port users, the community, government and key stakeholders on health and safety matters, potential innovations and efficiencies to actively reduce risk.
- We provide our people with an effective injury management process to optimise their recovery and return to work.
- We provide an Employee Assistance Program to provide support and professional guidance to our People, and their immediate families, experiencing difficult times.
- We provide direction and guidance to employees to incorporate health and safety practices in their day to day activities through the Business Management System framework (BMS).
- We manage risk to our contractors implementing key principles in our Supplier Engagement Management Standard.
- We demonstrate compliance with all relevant legislation, standards, codes of practice and guidelines worker, and alignment to ISO 45001 Occupational Health and Safety Management Systems.

PBPL's Health and Safety Management System is defined within PBPL's policies, standards, procedures and other supporting documents, and systematically manages the required processes to identify and minimise the risk of injury and illness from workplace activities, whilst providing the framework to maximise opportunities for continuous improvement and administer corrective/preventative measures and controls.

Roles and Responsibilities

Health and Safety is a shared responsibility and we each make a personal commitment to it. By taking care of each other, PBPL becomes a better business for all.

All PBPL people, suppliers and contractors have a responsibility to effectively implement, observe and fulfil the requirements of our Health and Safety Management System.

Individual roles and responsibilities are highlighted in the PBPL Code of Conduct and employees' position descriptions.

Assessment, review and continuous improvement

Workplace health and safety will remain our number one value and first priority in everything we do, and we will ensure that all PBPL people, the Board and key stakeholders are actively engaged to pursue continuous improvement in the Health and Safety Management System through:

- identifying and managing health and safety risks and opportunities.
- monitoring, measuring, reporting and reviewing performance, using best practice reporting systems with increased emphasis on lead indicators to facilitate preventative and corrective action plans.
- accessing (and following) competent advice.
